Mike,

I wanted to see if there's any update re a possibility to still invest with Social Goats.
Also, I heard you on the last fellowship mentioning that the Social Goats call will be held on Wednesday but I haven't received any link or info re that.

I just wanted to make sure I haven't missed out on it.

Thank you and Happy Thanksgiving to you and your family.

Hi, , you still may be able to invest. I am reaching out to larger investors asking them to reduce their requested investment amount. Most of them have been very agreeable and want to allow others to benefit. I will update you shortly.

Thank you your response.

I am in Austin, TX. Should you and your business team decide to expand the US shares, please let me know.

I really believe in what you are doing and think it's needed by the world now more than ever.

Hi, [REDACTED]...Happy Thanksgiving! There will not be a Wed call since most of the team is out for the Holiday. I will be doing the Sunday calls. I do the Freedom calls at Freedomministries.live at 10am and 6pm Mountain. I do the social goats call at socialgoats.live at 5pm mountain.

We could actually do $10k if you still wanted to invest. I would need to know legal name of who the investor would be. Then I can prepare the subscription documents to be signed electronically with PandaDoc. Once signed, then I can send wire instructions to complete the investment to make you one of the owners.

All the best.

I am so truly happy to hear this, this opportunity really means the world both to myself and my family.

Yes, I still want to invest.

I have an LLC though it hasn't been active in the last year. I am not sure what's the best to do it as a personal or LLC investment.

Just in case, below is both my personal and LLC information:

Hi, [REDACTED]...it really doesn't matter. Barb and I are holding our ownership in Luminus Media in our names since Luminus Media is already an LLC. So, you can either do your name or LLC. Just let me know what you decide. If you do use your LLC, I need to know your title as the signer (typically Member or Managing Member).

I'll have the subscription documents made up yet today and sent over since we are leaving for Maui in the morning.

Im glad it is a blessing to you and your family! We will do well with this investment. Love of love and continued blessings from Barb and I.

Mike,

It's more than a blessing, I haven't met anyone like you and Barb and any words I can think of now are just too hollow to express my gratitude for everything you have been doing for all of our community.

I will do the investment in [REDACTED]. I am the sole owner/ member of this LLC.
It's all in my name - [REDACTED].

I haven't used any titles specifically as I just use the LLC for payment for my small side gig. Whatever title is the most common one should do.

Thank you and have a wonderful time in Maui!

Happy Thanksgiving.

Hi, ██████████...there was not a cut off date. There were only 200k shares available and they were purchased almost immediately.

If we open it up for more investors in the future as we expand into other countries, I'll let people know.

Everyone will be part of the early subscribers pool automatically if they become a subscriber.

All the best.

I would like to invest 10K with SocialGoats. I didn't realize that there's a cutoff date that has come so soon.

Is there a way to reopen this for some of us who were not aware of this cutoff date.

Thank you,

Hi, [REDACTED]...thanks so much for the message. The min capital investment is $10k, but everyone who subscribes in the first 90 days will automatically be put in the early subscribers pool.

We will keep everyone updated on the weekly calls. You can also check in on the website as we make progress at socialgoats.com.
